

Ellen Miller; a Brief Biography

I have worked for the Mid-Continent Library System since September, 2006 in the Genealogy Branch (The Midwest Genealogy Center). I have developed three presentations-Beginning Genealogy, Making Sense of Census Records and this one on Cemetery Art. I give these presentations both within and outside of the Midwest Genealogy Center. I am currently working on another presentation on doing research on the invisible web. I enjoy the research aspect of working at the Midwest Genealogy Center. There is nothing more satisfying than seeing the look on a patron's face when they find that elusive record they have been searching for. I have lived in the Kansas City, MO area for the majority of my life. I have two grown children and four grandchildren.
