

Cynthia Doxey Green, Ph.D.

Personal Information:

Cynthia Doxey Green spent most of her childhood and young adulthood in Salt Lake City, Utah, except for the three years her family lived in Barcelona, Spain, and the year she lived in Cambridge, England. These international experiences influenced her love of traveling and exploring new areas. Many family and personal trips to the Eastern United States, the United Kingdom, Germany, Switzerland, and other countries provided opportunities to learn more about ancestors, and to appreciate the lives they lived.

Education:

B.A. and M.S. in Child and Family Development, University of Utah

M.Phil. in Education, Cambridge University

Ph.D. in Family Studies, Brigham Young University

Experience:

Cynthia taught Family History classes as a member of the faculty of Church History and Doctrine at Brigham Young University for 13 years, with a research emphasis on British Emigration, English genealogy, and British Church History. After marrying and moving to the Southern United States, she continues to expand her research interests. Currently, she serves as a volunteer at the local Family History Center. She has presented at the BYU Genealogy and Family History Conference, in addition to presenting at the Federation of Genealogical Societies and other smaller conferences.
